THE ALTA FOR SOUTHEAST-ORS.

The Alta in speaking of the recent attack on Cleveland's domestic relations and the mutilation of the Democrats at Sacramento uses the following vigorous language:

Fools and traitors are not nominated for the Presidency, and the moral sense of the public goes through a debasing experience when policies of pith and moment are debated with the slime and filth of personal detraction. The Alta sincerely trusts that the Sacramento incident will be the last piece of partizan ruffianism that can be laid at the door of Democrats. We confidently hope a robust sense of manly decency in the Republican party will frown down all such filthy calumnies as those which a super-servicable party press has lately put in circulation regarding the President's domestic life. Let us debate questions of political economy with dignity and candor, and address our arguments to the patriotism and understanding of the country, and not degrade our politics with kitchen gossip, the tales of irresponsible blackguards and the small beer of the rum shop. In short, let us, like sober, intelligent citizens, throw away the snuffbox and the slush bucket, talk sense and decency, and vote honestly as our consciences and convictions dictate.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our regular correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, June 8th, 1888.

Cleveland celebrated his renomination by vetoing a private pension bill in favor of a poor widow. She cannot vote, you know.

The Senate committee on pensions has favorably reported the bill granting pensions to soldiers and sailors who were confined in Confederate prisons.

A bill increasing the pension of the widow of Gen. Heintzelman to $100 per month has been passed by the Senate.

Senator Chandler has introduced a bill to amend the act of the last Congress authorizing the President in his discretion to retaliate upon Canada for any restrictions placed by the Canadian officials upon our fishermen. The amendments proposed are to strike out the words "in his discretion," making retaliation mandatory upon the President; and to strike out that part of the act which makes the retaliation extend to other merchandise than fish.

The returns from the Oregon election were received with great pleasure by the Republicans in Congress. Republican gain on every hand is not at all bad for a campaign starter.

The Republicans of the House intend to force the arrears of pension bill to a vote at the earliest possible moment. It is understood that they will refuse to allow any other measure, with the exception of the tariff bill, to be considered by the House, until this bill is disposed of. The Democratic committee on rules of the House has not refused to report a resolution setting a time for the pension bill, but they have done everything they could to delay matters. There is a rumor that in order to save the tariff bill, or rather to keep up a seeming necessity for its passage, the Democrats will have a resolution reported setting a time for the pension bills, and that when they come up for consideration, they will offer amendments providing for an income tax, to raise the amounts appropriated by the bills.

The friends of Senator Sherman say that the nomination of Judge Thurman on the Democratic ticket adds largely to their candidate's chances of receiving the Republican nomination for President. Mr. Sherman will be placed in nomination at the Chicago convention by Gen. D. H. Hastings, Advocate General of the State of Pennsylvania.

New York Republicans in Congress think the Republican Presidential nomination lies between Chauncey M. Depew and Gen. Alger, either of whom, they say, can beat Cleveland in New York.

The Senate has passed a bill appropriating $35,000 for an equestrian statue of President Zachary Taylor in this City.

General Sheridan has had some very hard fights during his life as a soldier, but he is now engaged in a hand to hand conflict which is the hardest of all; his opponent is grim death, and the result of the battle is still in doubt, with the chances in favor of death. But "little Phil" has by no means given up. He says he intends to get well.

—If there should happen to be a dead lock in Chicago, it might be a good idea to nominate the candidates in alphabetical order. Alger and Allison might make a good ticket for a starter.
